LỜI NÓI ĐẦU

Các bậc phụ huynh và các em học sinh thân mến, với sự thay đổi trong việc ra đề thi kiểm tra môn tiếng Anh chuyên từ hình thức tự luận sang trắc nghiệm đang được Bộ Giáo dục và Đào tạo đưa vào các trường phổ thông, cuốn sách này được biên soạn nhằm cung cấp cho các em những dạng bài trắc nghiệm khác nhau để giúp các em làm quen với các dạng bài kiểm tra, phục vụ cho việc học và thi cơ kết quả.

Cuốn sách được biên soạn dựa vào sách giáo khoa đang được dùng ở các trường phổ thông trên cả nước. Các bài luyện tập từ 1 đến 8 dùng để củng cố lại kiến thức trong bài khoá ở trường. Các bài luyện tập từ số 9 đến 12 dùng để củng cố và nâng cao kiến thức ngoài sách giáo khoa. Đây là các dạng bài trắc nghiệm được dùng phổ biến trên thế giới và tại nước ta. Mỗi bài tập bao gồm bài luyện cho các kỹ năng khác nhau.

Cấu trúc của mỗi bài được trình bày như sau:

Phần I: Pronunciation (Phát âm)

Phần II: Mark stress (Đánh trọng âm)

Phần III: Vocabulary (Từ vựng)

Phần IV: Grammar (Ngữ pháp)

Phần V: Grammar and vocabulary combination (Sự kết hợp từ vựng và ngữ pháp)

Phần VI: Rewriting sentence (Viết lại câu)

Phần VII và VIII: Reading comprehension (Đọc hiểu)

Với kinh nghiệm trực tiếp giảng dạy học sinh ở các lớp phổ thông cũng như học sinh ở các lớp chuyên Anh, hy vọng cuốn sách này sẽ giúp các em củng cố và phát triển các kiến thức của mình để giúp các em học tốt tiếng Anh lớp 11, làm tiền đề cho việc thi tốt nghiệp cũng như thi vào các trường đại học và cao đẳng khối D sau này.

Chúc các em thành công và đạt được ước mơ của mình.

Leaders of the pak

The Incredible Rise Of The Rausing Billionaires

Gad and Hans Rausing are among the richest men in Britain, their wealth surpassing even that of the Queen. These Swedish brothers, who came to Britain in 1983 have made their millions from one product - Terapak, the aluminum and plastic laminated container for milk and fruit juice found all over the world.

One evening, near Christmas 1944, a young Swedish economist called Ruben Rausing was watching his wife making sausages in the small kitchen of their home in the university of Lund, Sweden.

He was impressed by the manner in which the sausages were contained in a skin and kept fresh by pressing shut each end. So, he began questioning his wife about the method she used. Their conversation that evening was to lead to the invention that would revolutionize lives throughout the world, and make the couple - and their family - billionaires.

For Ruben was to apply the principle to milk, inventing the low-cost, germ-free packaging system - which he called Terapak - a roll of cardboard twisted to make a pocket and sealed into a rectangular carton. Today if you buy milk or orange juice at any supermarket it will have come from Rausing's idea that day in his kitchen.

MOUNTAIN MEN

The history of Sumo wrestling goes back over 2000 years. Its origins are connected to the Japanese belief in Shinto, the 'way of the gods', where winning gains favor with the gods. This is why the ritual of a sumo match is taken so seriously.

The clay fighting ring is itself a sacred shrine. On entering it, the enormous wrestler first claps to attract the gods' attention and indicate his own purity of heart. Having done that, he shakes his apron to drive away evil spirit, and raises his arms to show he carries no weapons. Next comes his most dramatic gesture. With his left hand on his heart and his right arm extended to the east, the huge fighter raises his right leg as high as possible – to send it crashing down with all his force. Then he performs the same earth-shaking stamp with the other leg. After all, he purifies himself and the ring by throwing salt, wiping himself, and rinsing his mouth with water. Finally, the opponents spend three or four minutes trying to intimidate each other with grimaces and threatening postures.

The fight itself is brief and brutal and consists of a thunderous collision that rarely lasts more than ten seconds, which ends when one giant is pushed to the ground or outside the circle.

76. How long has Sumo been in existence?

VII. Choose a, b, c or d for each of the following blanks.

MATHEMATICS

In school boys and girls study mathematics. Counting, adding, subtracting multiplying, and dividing are part of what they learn. Schools teach (61) because it plays (62) an important part in our lives. How could we do such things (63) figure time, make change, build houses, or even keep score for a game without knowing about numbers?

Simple (64) with numbers, or arithmetic, is one branch of mathematics. Among the many (65) branches are geometry, algebra, trigonometry, and calculus. Mathematics has grown (66) the need for it has grown.

Geometry has to (67) mostly with form – with such things as angles, triangles, circles, and spheres.

Algebra is a sort of mathematical (68) By using algebra we can state many mathematical ideas with just (69) letters and signs. If we want to say, for example, that in any circle the (70) is twice the radius we can write: $d = 2r$.

Gradually other branches of mathematics (71) added. Mathematics today is of great use to (72) other sciences. Mathematics, however, is much more than a tool. It is a way of thinking – of drawing conclusions (73) facts.

One (74) advance in mathematics is the building of great electronic computers, or calculating machines. In a few seconds a computer can (75) problems that might take a man years to solve alone.

VIII. Read this passage carefully and then choose the best answer to questions below.

THE MIND MACHINE?

The brain needs ten times as much blood as other organs of the body, as it can't store glucose for later use. This is different to muscles and other organs and although the adult brain makes up only two percent of the body weight, its oxygen consumption is twenty per cent of the body's total.

There are similarities between brains and computers. Computers can do complicated calculations at fast speeds. But they work in a fixed way, because they can't make memory associations. If we need a screwdriver and there isn't one, we will use a knife or coin instead. Computers can't do this. In fact, it is claimed that when it comes to seeing, moving and reacting to stimuli, no computer can compete with even the brain of a fly.

Most of our mental processes are deeply formed habits. Challenging your brain to do things differently helps it develop. Try changing routines as often as you can: take a bus instead of going by car, sit in a different chair. And extreme but useful exercise is to read something upside down – you can actually feel your brain at work.

76. How much blood does the brain need?
- | | |
|--|-------------------------------------|
| A. As much as other organs of the body | B. Ten times as much as the heart |
| C. More than any organs of the body | D. Less than any organs of the body |

VIII. Read this passage carefully and then choose the best answer to questions below.

Nowadays, computers play an increasingly important role in all fields. And so, good or bad, computers are now part of our daily lives. With the price of a small home computer now as low as $500, experts predict that before long all schools and businesses and most families in the richer parts of the world will own a computer of some kind. Among the general public, computers arouse strong feelings – people either love them or hate them.

The computer lovers talk about how useful computers can be in business, in education and in the home – apart from all the games, you can do your accounts on them, learn languages from them, write letters on them, use them to control your central heating, and in some places even do your shopping with them. Computers, they say, will also bring some more leisure, as more and more unpleasant jobs are taken over by computerized robots.

The haters, on the other hand, argue that computers bring not leisure but unemployment. They worry too, that people who spend all their time talking to computers will forget how to talk to each other. And anyway, they ask, what’s wrong with going shopping, using pens and paper and typewriters, and learning languages in classrooms with real teachers? But their biggest fear is that computers may eventually take over from human beings altogether.

And so the arguments continued. Have you decided which side you are on?

VIII. Read this passage carefully and then choose the best answer to questions below.

Two or three centuries ago people had much shorter lives – the average age was forty-five. But this was mainly because a lot of babies used to die. If people survived to be adults, they could often live to be seventy or eighty, like today.

Having children was much more dangerous than it is today. Families often used to have ten or twelve children, but many babies died, and unfortunately many women died in childbirth.

In those days they didn't know how to cure all the diseases that we can cure now. Many people didn't used to have enough to eat, or did not have enough money to pay for doctors. Even if you had a doctor, some of their methods were very strange. They used to believe that cutting open their patients and "bleeding" cured almost any problem – unfortunately, it often killed them instead!

And people knew less about hygiene in the past. Even rich people didn't use to wash very often, and most poor people didn't have toilets or clean water. It was difficult to keep food fresh too, so they used to cook with a lot of strong spices to cover the taste of the bad meat.

76. What did the writer say about lives of people living two or three centuries ago?

WOMEN'S LIBERATION

Since the middle of this century, women around the world have been (61) greater independence and recognition. (62) longer content with their traditional roles (63) housewives and mothers, women have joined together to (64) the so-called "women's liberation movement". While the forces behind this international movement (65) from culture to culture and from individual to individual, the basic (66) in the United States can be traced to three events: The development of effective birth-control methods, the invention of labor-saving (67) for the home, and the advent of the World War II.

The first cause of the liberation of women was the development of effective birth-control (68), freeing women from the endless cycle of childbearing and rearing. (69) a result of having a choice as to if and when to bear children, women acquired the freedom and the time to (70) interests outside the home. Because of the development of birth control, women could (71) having children or avoid having them altogether; consequently, women had the opportunity to acquire an education and/or pursue a career.

The second (72) was the development of mechanized labor-saving devices for the home, resulting (73) more leisure time and freedom for women. For example, fifty years ago, a housewife spent an average of twelve to fourteen hours per day doing housework. Due to the invention of machines such as vacuum cleaners, washing machines and dishwashers, a housewife can now (74) care of her daily housework in about five hours.

The third event that, at least in the United States, gave impetus to the liberation of women was the World War II. During the war, most men were serving in the military. Consequently, women had to (75) the vacancies in the labor force. Women by the thousands went to work in factories and even took over businesses for their absent husbands. This was a great change for the majority of American women, for they discovered that they could weld airplanes and manage a business as well as change diapers and bake cookies.

These three events planted the seeds of a great change in society, and the effects of this change are being felt at all levels: in the family, in business, and in government.

It is early in the morning. Mr. and Mrs. Nosan are in the kitchen. They are very busy. Mr. Nosan is standing at the stove. He is frying 45 eggs. Mrs. Nosan is standing at the kitchen counter. She is pouring 45 glasses of milk. Do Mr. and Mrs. Nosan have a restaurant? Are they cooking breakfast for their customers? No, Mr. and Mrs. Nosan don't have a restaurant. They are cooking breakfast for their children.

Mr. and Mrs. Nosan have 58 children. They adopted 52 of the 58 children. Some of the children are grown. They live in their own houses and have their own families now. But 45 of the children still live at home. Why did Mr. and Mrs. Nosan adopt 52 children?

A lot of people want to adopt children. But they want to adopt babies, healthy babies. They do not want to adopt older children or children with physical problems. These children have to wait a long time for a home. Sometimes they never find a home. Mr. and Mrs. Nosan want to give some of these children a home and a family.

In the Nosan family, everybody helps. Some of the Nosan children have physical problems. The children with physical problems help, too. One little girl has no arms, but she changes the baby's diaper. She uses her feet. Mrs. Nosan tells the children, "You have a problem. Everybody has a problem. Some people are very short. Some people have glasses. Some people are overweight. Some problems are big, and some problems are small, but everybody has a problem. Don't worry about your problems."

The Nosan children help their parents, but Mr. and Mrs. Nosan have a lot of work. Mrs. Nosan washes 12 loads of laundry everyday. Mr. and Mrs. Nosan cook all the meals. They are busy from five o'clock in the morning to 11 o'clock at night. How can they do it?

Mrs. Nosan says, "God gives everybody different abilities. My husband and I have a special ability. We can love and take care of many children. God said, 'You can do it.' And God is right. We can."

VIII. Read this passage carefully and then choose the best answer to questions below.

Police Officer Tidwell left the station just after 8 a.m on Sunday, June 4. He had spent an uneventful night on duty and was looking forward to his day to rest. By habit he took a short cut down the path behind Digby Hall Road and after a minute or two he saw a man climbing down a drain-pipe from an open bedroom window of number 29. In silence Tidwell crept into the garden. The man reached the ground and was dusting himself down when he felt his arm gripped.

"It's 8.15 on Sunday morning," said the officer, "and this sort of thing seems an unlikely adventure at such a time. Would you mind explaining?"

The man was obviously startled but kept calm. He said, "I know what you're thinking, officer, but it isn't true. This is a very funny mistake."

"It's part of my job to take an interest in unusual events. I think you've just left this house in a manner other than the customary one. That may be quite innocent, but I'd like to make sure." Tidwell look out his notebook and a pen. "Name, address and occupation and then, please, tell me your story."

"Charlie Crane, lorry driver, from Nottingham, 51, Brecon Street. My story..."

"Yes. What were you doing like a fly on that wall, Mr. Crane?"

"Well, I had a breakdown yesterday and had to stay the night here. Bed and breakfast. The landlady's name is Mrs. Fern. She gave me breakfast at seven, and I was out of here in the right way and down at the lorry park by half past. It was only when I left around for a cigarette I realized I'd left $80 in my pay envelop under the pillow here at number 29. I always put it under my pillow at night. It's a habit I've got into. I even do it at home..."

"I see. Why didn't you miss it when you went to pay Mrs. What's-her- name?"

"I paid her last night. You've got to pay when you take the room, see? So I came rushing back, but it's Sunday, and she'd gone back to bed, and could I wake her? I rang the bell and banged on the front door for ten minutes before I came round here to the back and spotted my bedroom window still open. Up I went, then, up this pipe. It's a trick I learnt in the army. She hadn't made the bed, and the money was still there. You know the rest, and I hope you believe it because..."

"Mr. Crane, whatever are you doing here? I thought you'd gone an hour ago." It was Mrs. Fern speaking from the kitchen window at the corner of the house.

VIII. Read this passage carefully and then choose the best answer to questions below.

MADAME TUSSAUD'S

Madame Tussaud's is London's most visited tourist attraction, with over two and a half million visitors a year. There are over 400 models on display. Each one is worth $20,000, so security is tight. However, despite the monitors and eagle-eyed staff, visitors can't resist picking up souvenirs and someone even went off with Marie Antoinette's head.

Making the wax models is a highly skilled and lengthy process. From start to finish it takes months to work for the artists and craftsmen who contribute to produce the final figure. All the waxworks are life-size replicas of the real person, down to the last detail. Even Michael Jackson's inside trouser leg has been measured and recorded. This is considered highly classified information, of course.

Stuart Williamson, a sculptor here for fifteen years, says, "Either they come to the museum or we go to them. We went to Buckingham Palace to do the Royal Family and the Neverland Ranch for Jackson. They sit on a turntable where they are measured and photographed from every angle possible. I then sculpt the clay, trying to get a feel for their personality, which is as important as what they look like."

The most nerve-racking part of the job can be when the real person meets their wax double. Bod Geldof thought that he wasn't untidy enough and ruffled his twin's hair. The Dalai Lama thought the whole thing was funny. Clothes for the models are often chosen by the famous themselves. Madame Tussaud's has the only exact replica of Princess Diana's wedding dress. Sometimes clothes are given to the museum. John Haigh, the acid bath murderer, donated his suit the day before he was executed. And when comedian, Lenny Henry, revisited Madame Tussaud's, he was horrified to see his wax double wearing his favorite pink suit – he had been looking for it for two years.

The public's fascination with fame and fortune means Madame Tussaud's will continue to be a popular venue for many years to come.

WHAT'S THE SECRET OF SUCCESSFUL LANGUAGE LEARNING?

We asked two experienced teachers of English for their opinion.

Alastair Banton is a teacher at a private language school in the UK. He has also taught English in Japan.

I think the most important thing is that you really have to want to learn the language – without that, you won't get very far. You also have to believe that you will do it. Then there are other things: Of course, you need to work hard, but at the same time you need to enjoy it and not get frustrated when you feel you are not making much progress. And you have to be realistic – learning a language takes time, and you can't expect to know and understand everything in a few weeks. Also you should try to "develop an ear" for the language – not only to recognize the sounds of the language and to understand what people are saying, but also notice the exact words and phrases that people use ... and then try to use them yourself. Some people can do this naturally, but others have to learn how to do it – that's where having a good teacher is important.

Teresa Pelc is a teacher of English in Poland. She has taught English in a secondary school for a number of years.

For me, motivation is the most important thing. You have to be ready to study grammar, read a lot, listen to English songs, radio and T.V, and what's more you have to do these things systematically.

It is so easy to forget what you have just learnt... that's why I needed a teacher to force me to study. Even the most motivated students need that extra push sometimes. I believe that ~~only~~ a very few people can learn a language on their own.

Learning a language can be quite stressful, especially for adults... suddenly, we speak like children and make fools of ourselves! But if you've motivated, you learn to overcome this. It all sounds like very hard work – and it is. It is also very enjoyable – I praise my students for every thing they do well, however small it is. Many of them are very successful and speak English better than me, and some of them have even become English teachers themselves!

76. What is the text about?

- A. The teachers interviewed have never taught in secondary school.
- B. Learning a language doesn't take time.
- C. All you have to do when learning a language is to recognize the sounds of the language and understand what people are saying.
- D. To successfully learn a language you have to be ready to study grammar, read a lot, and listen to English songs, radio and T.V.

79. What happens when you learn a language?

- A. It is easy to forget what you have just learnt.
- B. Motivated students don't need any push to study.
- C. A great number of people can learn a language on their own.

VIII. Read this passage carefully and then choose the best answer to questions below.

After inventing dynamite, Alfred Nobel became a very rich man. However, he foresaw its universally destructive powers too late. Nobel preferred not to be remembered as the inventor of dynamite, so in 1895, just two weeks before his death, he created a fund to be used for awarding prizes to people who had made worthwhile contribution to mankind. Originally, there were five awards: Literature, Physics, Chemistry, Medicine and Peace. Economics was added in 1968, just sixty-seven years after the first award ceremony.

Nobel's original legacy of nine million dollars was invested, and the interest on this sum is used for the awards which vary from $30,000 to $125,000.

Every year on December 10th, the anniversary of Nobel's death, the awards (gold medal, illuminated diploma, and money) are presented to the winners. Sometimes politics plays an important role in the judges' decisions. Americans have won numerous science awards, but relatively few literature awards.

No awards were presented from 1940 to 1942 at the beginning of the World War II. Some people have won two prizes, but this is rare, others have shared their prizes.

76. When did the first award ceremony take place?
 A. 1985 B. 1901 C. 1962 D. 1968

VIII. Read this passage carefully and then choose the best answer to questions below.

A recent investigation by scientists at the U.S Geological Survey shows that strange animal behavior might help predict future earthquakes. Investigators found such occurrences in a ten kilometre radius of the epicenter of a fairly recent quake. Some birds screeched and flew about wildly, dogs yelped and ran around uncontrollably.

Scientists believe that animals can perceive these environmental changes as early as several days before the mishap.

In 1976 after observing animal behavior, the Chinese were able to predict a devastating quake. Although hundreds of thousands of people were killed, the government was able to evacuate millions of other people and thus keep the death toll at a lower level.

76. What prediction may be made by observing animal behavior?
 A. An impending earthquake.
 B. The number of people who will die.
 C. The ten-kilometre radius of the epicenter.
 D. Environmental changes.
77. Why can animals perceive these changes when humans cannot?

VIII. Read this passage carefully and then choose the best answer to questions below.

At birth, the infant has only the most elementary emotional life. Newborns show an expression of disgust, for example, in response to strong tastes and show surprise in reaction to sudden changes. They also show interest, which developmental psychologists consider an emotion in its own right.

By 10 months, infants display the full range of what are considered the basic emotions: Joy, anger, sadness, disgust, surprise, and fear. The emergence of this basic emotions during the first year or two of life seems to be programmed by biological clock for brain development. As the appropriate brain maturation occurs the various emotions appear in an infant's repertory. For example, studies of brain activities in ten-month-olds show that the right frontal regions are more active during positive emotions and the left during negative emotions.

76. Which of the following is not mentioned in the passage as an emotion displayed by a newborn?
- A. Disgust B. Interest C. Surprise D. Fear
77. The phrase 'in its own right' is closest in meaning to which of the following?
- A. legally B. in fact C. in itself D. on the other hand.
78. In the second paragraph, the author uses the analogy of a clock to emphasize which of the following generalizations about infant's emotional behavior? It...
- A. emerges rapidly.
 B. has a complex pattern.
 C. develops with predictable regularity.
 D. may change from one minute to the next.
79. Which of the following statements about ten-month-old infants is best supported by the passage?
- A. Their various emotional responses are difficult to discriminate.
 B. Their emotional range is wider than that of newborns.
 C. Their behavior is affected only by positive emotions.
 D. Their brains activity is greater when they are happy.
80. The ideas in the passage are divided into 2 paragraphs in order to contrast.....
- A. emotional development.
 B. two areas of the brain involved in emotional development.
 C. the development of two emotional in infants.

VII. Read this passage carefully and then choose the best answer to questions below.

As a result of years of research, we know that too much animal fat is bad for our health. For example, Americans eat a lot of meat and only a small amount of grains, fruit and vegetables. Because of their diet, they have high rates of cancer and heart disease. In Japan, in contrast, people eat large amounts of grains and very little, meat. The Japanese also have very low rates of cancer and heart disease. In fact, the Japanese live longer than anyone else in the world. Unfortunately, when Japanese people move to the United States, the rates of heart disease and cancer increase as their diet changes. Moreover, as hamburgers, ice-cream, and other high-fat foods become popular in Japan, the rates of heart disease and cancer are increasing there as well. People are also eating more meat and dairy products in other countries such as Cuba, Mauritius and Hungary. Not surprisingly, the disease rates in these countries are increasing along with the change in diet. Consequently, doctors everywhere advise people to eat more grains, fruit and vegetables and to eat less meat and fewer dairy products.

76. What is the main idea of this passage?

VIII. Read this passage carefully and then choose the best answer to questions below.

Mickey Mouse was not Walt Disney's first successful cartoon creation, but he is certainly his most famous one. It was on a cross-country train trip from New York to California in 1927 that Disney first drew the mouse with the big ears. Supposedly, he took his inspiration from the tame field mice that used to scamper into his old studio in Kansas City. No one is quite sure why he dressed the mouse in the now-familiar shorts with two buttons and gave him the yellow shoes. But we do know that Disney had intended to call him Mortimer until his wife Lillian intervened and christened him Mickey Mouse.

Capitalizing on the interest in Charles Lindbergh, Disney planned Mickey's debut in the short cartoon Plane Crazy, with Minnie as a co-star. In the third short cartoon, Steamboat Willie, Mickey was whistling and singing through the miracle of the modern soundtrack. By the 1930s, Mickey's image had circled the globe. He was a superstar at the height of his career.

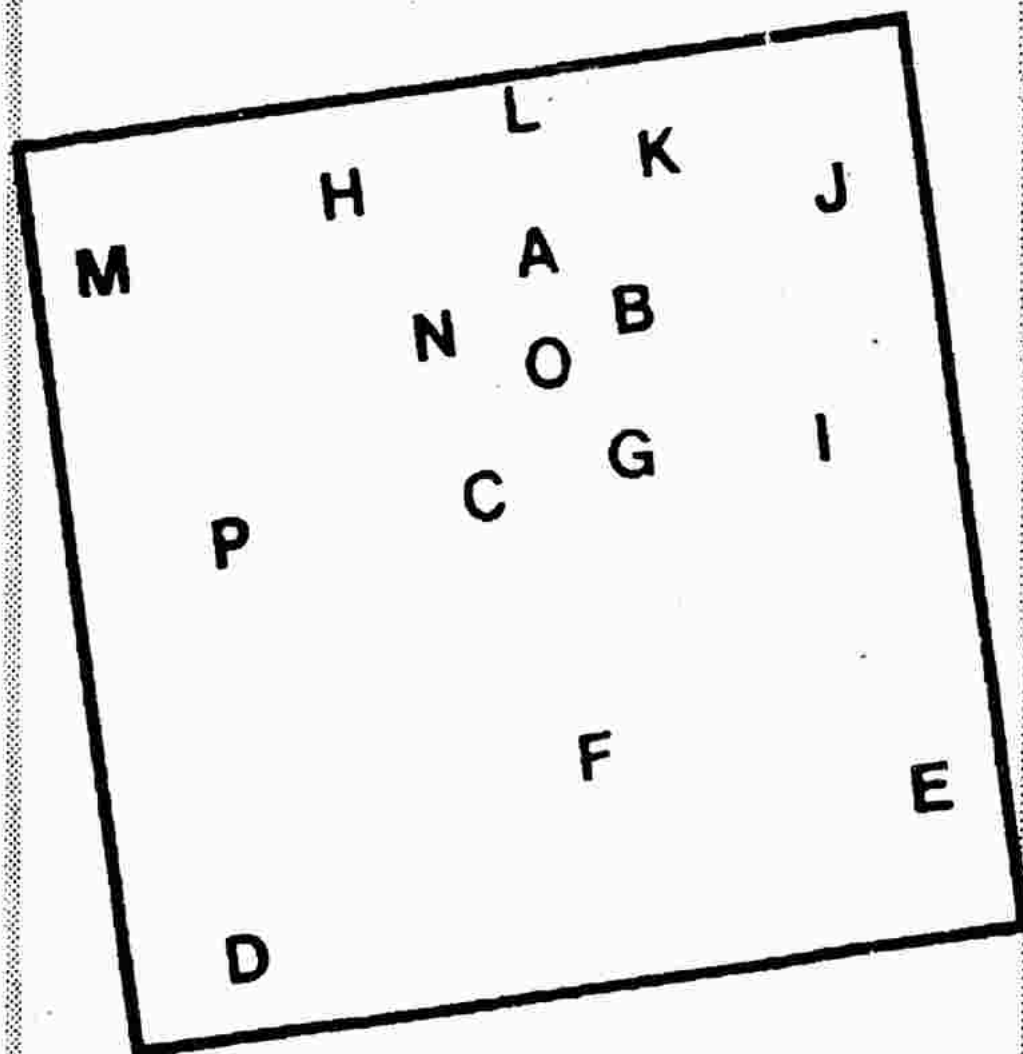

Although he has received few minor changes throughout his lifetime, most notably the addition of white gloves and the rounder forms of a more childish body, he has remained true to his nature since those first cartoons. Mickey is appealing because he is nice. He may get into trouble, but he takes it on the chin with a grin. He is both good-natured and resourceful. Perhaps that was Disney's own image of himself. Why else would he have insisted on doing Mickey's voice in all the cartoon for twenty years? When interviewed, he would say, "There is a lot of the mouse in me". And that mouse has remained one of the most pervasive images in American popular culture.

76. With what topic is the passage primarily concerned?
 A. The image of Mickey mouse B. The life of Walt Disney
 C. The history of cartoon D. The definition of American culture
77. What distinguished Steamboat Willie from earlier cartoons?
 A. Better color B. A sound track

VIII. Read this passage carefully and then choose the best answer to questions below.

I know that it is my job to make sure that everything goes well for the tourists and I feel I work hard for the company. I cannot be blamed for last week. I met the group at the airport and took them to the coach. The coach driver was a bit annoyed because the flight was late. But it wasn't far to the hotel and everyone was looking forward to their dinner. We hadn't used the Hotel Riviera before but our normal one had a conference in it so it was fully booked. When I announced our arrival at the reception desk, they said they were full. I had booked rooms for the group but the manager said they were cancelled by phone a few days before. He insisted that he recognized my voice and that I had made the phone call. We had a bit of an argument but they obviously didn't have enough rooms. In the end, the manager phoned hotels in the town and found rooms for everyone but in four different hotels. By this time, the coach had gone, so we had to get taxis and some of the tourists started to get very angry with me I still don't know who made that phone call but it definitely wasn't me ...

VIII. Read this passage carefully and then choose the best answer to questions below.

In an effort to produce the largest, fastest, and most luxurious ship afloat, the British built the Titanic. It was so superior to anything else on the seas that it was dubbed "unsinkable". So sure of this were the owners that they provided lifeboats for only 950 of its possible 3,500 passengers.

Many passengers were aboard the night it rammed an iceberg, only two days at sea and more than halfway between England and the New York destination. Because the luxury liner was travelling so fast, it was impossible to avoid the ghostly looking iceberg. An unextinguished fire also contributed to the ship's submersion. Panic increased the number of casualties as people jumped into the icy water or fought to be among the few to board the lifeboats. Four hours after the mishap, another ship, the Carpathia rescued the survivors - less than a third of those originally aboard.

The infamous Titanic enjoyed only two days of sailing glory on its maiden voyage in 1912 before plunging into 12,000 feet of water near the coast of Newfoundland, where it lies today.

VIII. Read this passage carefully and then choose the best answer to questions below.

"Where is the university?" is a question many visitors to Cambridge ask, but no one can give them a clear answer, for there is no wall to be found around the university. The university is the city. You can find the classroom buildings, libraries, museums and offices of the university all over the city. And most of its members are the students and teachers or professors of the thirty-one colleges.

Cambridge was an already developing town long before the first students and teachers arrived 800 years ago. It grew up by the river Granta, as the Cam was once called. A bridge was built over the river as early as 875.

In the fourteenth and fifteenth centuries more and more land was used for college buildings. The town grew much faster in the nineteenth century after the opening of the railway in 1845. Cambridge became a city in 1951 and now it has the population of over 100,000. Many young students want to study at Cambridge. VIII. Read this passage carefully and then choose the best answer to questions below.

Because writing has become so important in our culture, we sometimes think of it as more real than speech. A little thought, however, will show why speech is primary and writing secondary to language. Human beings have been writing (as far as we can tell from surviving evidence) for at least 500 years, but they have been talking for much longer, doubtless ever since there have been human beings.

When writing did develop, it was derived from and represented speech, although imperfectly. Even today there are spoken languages that have no writing form. Furthermore, we all learn to talk well before we learn to write; any human child who is not severely handicapped physically or mentally will learn to talk: a normal human being cannot be prevented from doing so. On the other hand, it takes a special effort to learn to write: in the past many intelligent and useful members of society did not acquire the skill, and even today many who speaks languages with writing systems never learn to read or write, while some who learn the rudiments of those skills do so imperfectly.

To affirm the primacy of speech over writing is not, however, to say that the latter is of little importance. One advantage writing has over speech is that it is more permanent and makes possible the records that any civilization must have. Thus, speaking makes us human, writing makes us civilized.

76. The author of the passage argues that
- A. writing has become too important in today's society.
 - B. speech is more basic to language than writing.
 - C. everyone who learns to speak must learn to write.
 - D. all languages must have a written form.
77. According to the passage, writing
- A. is imperfect, but less so than speech.
 - B. represents speech, but not perfectly.
 - C. developed from imperfect speech.
 - D. is represented perfectly by speech.
78. In the author's judgment
- A. writing has more advantages than speech.
 - B. speech is essential but writing has important benefits.
 - C. speech conveys ideas less accurately than writing does.
 - D. writing is more real than speech.
79. In order to show that learning to write requires effort, the author gives the example of
- A. people who learn the rudiments of speech.
 - B. people who speak many languages.
 - C. intelligent people who could not write.
 - D. severely handicapped children.

80. According to the author, one mark of civilized society is that it
- A. affirms the primacy of speech over writing.
 - B. affirms the primacy of writing over speech.
 - C. teaches its children to speak perfectly.
 - D. keeps written records.

VII. Read the passage and choose A, B, C or D for each of the following blanks.

This year's Innovations and Inventions Fair has just opened, and has attracted inventors from all over the world who need to show their new ideas to the public.

The fair always provides a wonderful (61) of inventions, and this year is no exception. One inventor is demonstrating a way of making it impossible to copy documents (62) as passports and tickets. So far, the only person who has offered to buy the patent is said (63) a member of the Mafia, but it is not clear what he wants to do (64) it. The inventor will have to go ahead with the sale (65) he can find a more normal buyer (66) the end of the show. There are plenty of new gadgets too to help the disabled. The youngest inventor, fourteen (67) old Jane Watson, has come up with a battery-powered device for people who cannot clean their teeth (68) One of its special features is that it never needs (69) because it runs on solar power.

A new feature of this year's show is the Helpcentre, which has been (70) up to give new inventors (71) on how to make the most of their ideas. According to the show's organizers many inventions fail because inventors spend (72) much time developing the product and don't pay (73) attention to the business side of the project.

The fair is open from 9 a.m to 6.30 p.m every day and runs (74) March 11. Tickets are (75) at £3.50.

VIII. Read this passage carefully and then choose the best answer to questions below.

SORE THROAT

Most sore throats are caused by an infection which treatment with antibiotics can not cure. But with simple remedies the patient normally gets better in 4 or 5 days.

Tonsillitis, however, usually starts with a sore throat which causes pain on swallowing. With children - and some adults - there may be a fever and the patient is obviously not feeling well. It may be possible to see white spots on the back of the throat. The neck may also swell, both of which are the normal response to infection.

Sometimes a sore throat may occur with the common cold and with influenza. There may be dryness of the throat, pain on coughing and loss of voice.

TREATMENT

Aspirin : To help relieve the pain on swallowing and (if there is one) the fever. Use aspirin tablets dissolved in water so that the patient can gargle before swallowing. Repeat the treatment every 4 hours.

Drink : Encourage the patient to drink plenty.

Food : Food should not be forced on a patient who does not want to eat. Steam: If there is pain in the throat on coughing, breathing in steam may help

CHILDREN

Young children, who may not be able to gargle, should be given aspirin "dissolved in water every 4 hours in the right dose for their age.

At 1 year: A single junior aspirin

At 5 years: Half an adult aspirin

At 8 years: One whole adult aspirin

WHEN TO SEE THE DOCTOR

If the sore throat is still getting worse after two days.

If the patient complains of earache.

If the patient's fever increases.

If the patient's parent is very worried.

- D. result in tonsillitis even when treated.

77. One of the signs of tonsillitis can often be.....

- A. difficulty in swallowing food and liquid.
- B. pain in the chest When coughing.
- C. white spots appearing on the neck.
- D. earache during the first four or five days.

78. In order to treat a sore throat one should.....

- A. prevent the patient from eating too much
- B. give the patient up to four aspirin tablets every hour.
- C. make sure the patient takes in plenty of liquid.
- D. make the patient gargle with hot liquid.

79. you should call the doctor in if.....
- the infection spreads to another member of the family.
 - swelling occurs in the region of the ears.
 - the patient's throat is still sore after two days.
 - the patient's condition continues to worsen.
80. What difference is there in the way adults and young children should be treated with aspirin?
- Young children should not be allowed to gargle with it.
 - Adults should be given tablets to swallow whole.
 - Young children should be given aspirin more often than adults.
 - Adults should be given larger doses of aspirin than children.

VIII. Read this passage carefully and then choose the best answer to questions below.

In 1920, after some thirty-nine years of problems with disease, high costs and politics, the Panama Canal was officially opened, finally linking the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans by allowing ships to pass through the fifty-mile canal zone instead of travelling some seven thousand miles around Cape Horn. It takes a ship approximately eight hours to complete the trip through the canal and cost an average of fifteen thousand dollars, one-tenth of what it could cost an average ship to round the Horn. More than fifteen thousand ships pass through its locks each year.

The French initiated the project but sold their rights to the United States. The latter will control it until the end of the twentieth century when Panama takes over its duties.

VIII. Read this passage carefully and then choose the best answer to questions below.

Reading to oneself is a modern activity which was almost unknown to the scholars of the classical and medieval worlds, while during the fifteenth century the term "reading" undoubtedly meant reading aloud. Only during the 19th century did silent reading become commonplace.

One should be wary, however, of assuming that silent reading came about simply because reading aloud is a distraction to others. Examination of factors related to the historical development of silent reading reveals that it became the usual mode of reading for most adult reading tasks mainly because the tasks themselves changed in character.

The last century saw a steady gradual increase in literacy and thus in the number of readers. As readers increased, so the number of potential listeners declined, and thus there was some reduction in the need to read aloud. As reading -for the benefit of listeners grew less common, so came the flourishing of reading as a private activity in such public places as libraries, railway carriages and offices, where reading aloud would cause distraction to other readers.

Towards the end of the century there was still considerable argument over whether books should be used for information or treated respectfully, and over whether the reading of material such as newspapers was in some way mentally weakening. Indeed this argument remains with us still in education. However, whatever its virtues, the old shared literacy culture had gone and was replaced by the printed mass media on the one hand and by books and periodicals for a specialized on the other.

By the end of the century students were being recommended to adopt attitudes to books and to use skills in reading them which were inappropriate if not impossible, for the oral reader. The social, cultural, and technological changes in the century had greatly altered what the term "reading" implied.

76. Why was reading aloud common before the nineteenth century?

VIII. Read this passage carefully and then choose the best answer to questions below.

A few years ago a shortage of natural gas drove prices sky high. Likewise, gasoline prices rose when demands exceeded supplies. A glut in the oil market drove prices back down. The law of supply and demand functioned according to textbook description in the case of oil, but the situation is otherwise in the current natural gas market. Natural gas consumers are finding their heating bills more of a burden than last year, in spite of a dramatic increase in supplies. There is so much natural gas available that many suppliers are closing down their plants for lack of a market, and rumored that some suppliers are even burning off their surplus gas.

Dear Mum and Dad,

This is just a quick letter to let you know that I'm fine. We're all working quite hard because the exams are only a few weeks away, but our teacher (61) he thinks we'll do well. (My landlady's not so sure - she keeps (62) me I should stop (63) so much T.V and do a bit more reading!).

Anyway, we had a wonderful time at half-term. I went off to Paris for (64) days with some of the others from the school, and we went on a guided (65) of the city. We saw most of the famous (66) like the Louvre, where they have an amazing (67) of paintings, and the Eiffel Tower. Then we went down to the South of France (68) train. It was so fast - the whole (69) was only about four hours. We spent (70) time in Nice and in Cannes as well, and we all really enjoyed it. On our last day we went to a small island (71) the He des Pelerins, and we saw the castle where they used to keep the 'Man in the Iron Mask'. All in all, we had a great time and (72) weather was really good as well. The only thing I felt (73) about was that we didn't have enough time to (74) to go swimming - maybe next time. Anyway, I must go now as I've got to do a lot of homework for tomorrow. (75) you write soon?

Love
Janie,

VIII. Read the following passage and choose the best answer.

The Nobel prizes, awarded annually for distinguished work in chemistry, physics, physiology or medicine, literature, and international peace, were made available by a fund bequeathed for that purpose by Swedish philanthropist, Alfred Bernard Nobel. The prizes, awarded since 1901, are administered by the Nobel Foundation in Stockholm. In 1969, a prize for economics endowed by the Central Bank of Sweden was added. Candidates for the prizes must be nominated in writing by a qualified authority in the field of competition: Candidates are judged by Swedish and Norwegian academies and institutes on the basis of their contribution to mankind. The awards are usually presented in Stockholm on December 10, with the King of Sweden officiating, an appropriate tribute to Alfred Nobel on the anniversary of his death. Each prize includes a gold medal, a diploma, and a cash award of about one million dollars.

76. What does this passage mainly discuss?
- | | |
|-----------------------------------|-------------------------|
| A. Alfred Bernard Nobel | B. The Nobel prizes |
| C. Great contributions to mankind | D. Swedish philanthropy |
77. How often are the Noble prizes awarded?
- | | |
|----------------------|-------------------------|
| A. Five times a year | B. Once a year |
| C. Twice a year | D. Once every two years |
78. A Nobel prize would NOT be given to
- | |
|--|
| A. an author who wrote a novel. |
| B. a doctor who discovered a vaccine. |
| C. a composer who wrote a symphony. |
| D. a diplomat who negotiated a peace settlement. |
79. Why were the prizes named for Alfred Bernard Nobel?
- | |
|---|
| A. He left money in his will to establish a fund for the prizes. |
| B. He won the first Nobel prize for his work in philanthropy. |
| C. He is now living in Sweden. |
| D. He serves as chairman of the committee to choose the recipients of the prizes. |
80. Why are the awards presented on December 10?
- | |
|--|
| A. Because it is a tribute to the king of Sweden. |
| B. Because Alfred Bernard Nobel died on that day. |
| C. Because that date was established in Alfred Nobel's will. |
| D. Because the central bank of Sweden administers the trust. |

LETTER TILES

Form four words reading across and five words reading down by placing the eight Letter Tiles into the diagram. Horizontal tiles go into horizontal spaces, vertical tiles into vertical spaces. In the example, three tiles fit together to form the words SAW, ONE, SO, AN, and WE
